Biography

Sebastian Ludvigsen started his photographic career, working with music, fashion and advertising in 1998. He has a distinct and recognisable expression, combining the ultra classical portrait with a humorous touch.

The strong lighting signature of Sebastian makes his work feel polished yet realistic at the same time. Sebastian has portrayed a vast number of musicians, including Eminem, Mayhem, Røyksopp, Darkthrone and Turbonegro, and his signature expression is in high demand in both the editorial- and commercial arenas.

His work has been featured in Harper's Bazaar, D2 Magazine and Kerrang!, as well as in commercial campaigns for agencies like Saatchi&Saatchi, TRY/APT, Dinamo and McCann.
